

Strategic Children's Minister- £23-24k

Interested in Children's work with a community focus?

An exciting new opportunity has arisen within PSALMS in Gloucestershire to appoint a full time Strategic Children's Minister, to build on the existing work in Minchinhampton and Painswick and to develop it into new areas

PSALMS is an ecumenical charity, set up in 2005 to provide both youth and children's ministry. We are seeking someone with a vision to further develop how contemporary Christianity can be expressed in and through local schools, and the local church. The work includes running lunchtime and after school Christian groups, as well as Church based Sunday activities, leading holiday clubs and other events and supporting church-school links.

This desired development will be dependent upon an ability to build and motivate teams of volunteers. The successful candidate will therefore be able to demonstrate an ability to work on their own initiative, lead and support volunteers, have good networking skills, and a heart for mission among children.

Other information: This role will be an Associate post of Scripture Union, and the salary reflects the strategic nature of the role and will be based on JNC Scale 14-17, depending on professional qualifications and proven expertise. The expected start date will be in September 2009.

For more details or an application pack: visit www.psalms.uk.net. Please do not send us your CV.

Closing date: Completed application forms must be received no later than 6th June 2009

Interview date: 19th June 2009
