Advice, support and inspiration for every aspect of short-term mission

Interested in a short-term overseas outreach trip for members of your church, but not sure where to start?

Wanting to put a team together for an overseas trip, but lacking the resources and background information to make it happen?

Looking for ways to integrate overseas mission experience with local mission involvement?

World Mission Services provides the practical support, local knowledge and overseas outreach experience you need to get your mission trip off the ground. Whether you're looking for a team leader, a link with a specific project or community, practical and cultural advice for your team, or any of the myriad other aspects of planning and taking a short-term mission trip, WMS can help.

- Hands-on help with planning, booking and leading your trip
- Established links with outreach projects worldwide
- Extensive local knowledge gained through many years' overseas outreach experience
- Pre-travel preparation, briefing and orientation workshops
- Post-travel support and follow-up
- Itineraries tailor-made to fit skills and requirements of team
- Advice regarding involvement of the sending church, and incorporation of the trip within the ongoing mission strategy of the church
